

PREFACE

This register of the Amzi Clarence Dixon Collection is the seventh in a series of registers prepared by the Dargan-Carver Library Staff. This collection is the property of the Historical Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention.

This is not a piece-by-piece description, but the register will give the researcher enough information to guide him. It is intended to give an over-all description with enough detail about subject headings, names, and dates to help the researcher. The Dixon materials are organized according to categories. The correspondence is arranged chronologically within the following classifications: family originals, copies, general, and letters after Dr. Dixon's death.

AMZI CLARENCE DIXON COLLECTION

Scope and Content Note

The papers of Amzi Clarence Dixon numbering approximately 6,100 items are stored in 30 archival boxes and four scripbooks. They contain an outstanding collection of sermons and sermon notes. ^{and his practices} The 1,300 sermons compose about one half of the bulk of these materials. Another very valuable part of this collection is the correspondence section which was used extensively for research in the writing of his biography "A. C. Dixon, a Romance of Preaching" by Helen C. A. Dixon. The manuscript of this book is in this collection.

The correspondence is arranged chronologically within these categories: (1) family correspondence, originals and copies, (2) general, (3) letters from all over the world about Dr. Dixon's death in 1925, (4) some correspondence in the folders concerning A. C. Dixon's work in the various churches he pastored, and (5) in the folders of "Author, Lecturer and Traveler." The original family correspondence is well preserved, interesting and important for its biographical content. There are two very old original letters: one written from La Grange, Tennessee. It has a canceled 2¢ stamp on the first page, envelopes were not always used at that time. The other letter is dated September 28, 1863, from a Civil War soldier, a cousin.

These materials show how widely Dr. Dixon traveled to preach and speak in conferences.

The bulk of this material falls in the period 1870-1925. The main subject headings are: (1) Biographical materials, (2) book manuscripts, (3) booklets, (4) church life and polity, (5) conference work, (6) correspondence, (7) evangelism, (8) Hanson Place Church, (9) Immanuel Baptist Church, (10) Los Angeles Bible Institute, (11) Men and Movements, (12) Metropolitan Tabernacle, London, England, (13) Moody Church, Chicago, (14) sermons, (15) University Baptist Church, Baltimore, and (16) World War I.

Among Dixon's correspondents are: Annie Armstrong, Ralph Atkinson of Bible Institute of Los Angeles, Henry W. Battle, Charles A. Blanchard (President of Wheaton College), Charles T. Ball (President of Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary), Len G. Broughton, Prince and Princess Bernadotte, N. B. Broughton, George Dana Boardman, Mrs. Wilbur Chapman, John C. Calhoun (a relative of the more well-known one), J. L. Campbell of Carson Newman College, R. H. DeMent, F. H. Ford, J. M. Frost, Bishop C. D. Foss of Philadelphia, A. F. Gaylord, H. H. Hadley, R. G. (Bob) Ingersoll, J. William Jones, Edward Judson of Chicago University (son of Adoniram), F. H. Kerfoot, Melvin G. Kyle, Joseph W. Kemp, Joshua and Eugene Levering, W. C. Loundes, George O. Manning, F. B. Meyer, Charles C. McCabe, Ella W. McGill of London, Mrs. W. R. Nimmo, W. E. Needham, Louie D. Newton, French E. Oliver, Ambrose Pomeroy, Arthur T. Pierson (editor of Missionary Review of the World), J. E. Passmore, P. W. Philpott (pastor of Moody Church), T. H. Pritchard (President of Wake Forest College 1880), A. J. Rowland, Fleming H. Revell, W. B. Riley, A. F. Robertson, Allan Sutherland (Executive secretary of Pocket Testament League), E. O. Sellers, George Stebbins, J. H. Shakespeare, Ruben Saillens of Paris, France, Thomas Spurgeon of London, England, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Torrey, George W. Truett, T. DeWitt Talmadge, D. B. Towner, R. T. Vann, O.C.S. Wallace, John Wanamaker, George B. Wilmot, and E. Y. Woolley (Dixon's assistant in Moody Church).

There are names of many important people in the correspondence with the book manuscript "Light Out of Darkness."

Addenda 1-24-64

AMZI CLARENCE DIXON

Biographical Note

Clergyman--pastor and evangelist for more than fifty years--and author

Life's motto: "To me to live is Christ."

- 1854, July 6 Born in Shelby, North Carolina, the son of Rev. Thomas and Amanda Elizabeth (McAfee) Dixon; brother of Thomas D., the writer. In his youth he read with great interest the sermons of Charles Haddon Spurgeon, and through them received an inspiration to preach the gospel. His retentive memory gained him some attention in the village school.
- 1865 Was converted while his father was preaching on the text "What must I do to be saved? Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." Dixon describes his acceptance of Christ as Saviour thus, "I began by simply resting upon Christ, and the promise that He has made."
- 1866 Baptized by his father in a mountain stream
- 1869 Entered Wake Forest College, Wake Forest, North Carolina
- 1874 A.B., Wake Forest College
Ordained to the Baptist ministry in Bear Marsh Church, a rural church just outside the village of Warsaw, North Carolina
- 1874-75 Pastor of the Baptist churches in Warsaw, (Mount Olive), and Bear Marsh, North Carolina; dividing his time between these.
Theological studies at Southern Baptist Seminary, Greenville, S.C.
- 1876-79,
Nov. 7 Pastor of the Baptist Church in Chapel Hill, North Carolina
Attended the University of North Carolina while there as pastor. As a result of one evangelistic meeting, in which he preached every day for more than a month, about 100 university students became Christians.
- 1880, July 1 Married Susan Mary (Mollie) Faison, Warsaw, North Carolina. The children in order of their ages were: Howard, Mary Faison, Abner Faison, Clara (Mrs. Frank Richardson of Black Mountain, North Carolina), and Grace
- 1879-82 Pastor of the Baptist church in Asheville, North Carolina. During a six weeks evangelistic meeting there, about 300 were converted.
- 1882-90 Pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Baltimore, Maryland. He was the first pastor of this church.
- 1886 D.D. from Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia (conferred on him over his protest)

- 1890-1901 Pastor of Hanson Place Baptist Church, Brooklyn, New York.
- 1893 He was associated for one month with D. L. Moody preaching to throngs in attendance at the World's Fair in Chicago. During his whole ministry, evangelism was the dominant theme. He was a man of great faith and prayer. To him there was no joy comparable to that of winning the lost to Christ.
- 1901-1906 Pastor of Ruggles Street Baptist Church, Boston, Mass. For some years he was closely associated with Lake Keuka Assembly in mid-western New York State. There he had association with men like R. A. Torrey, Len G. Broughton, Cornelius Woelfkin, Maltbie Babcock, and W. J. Erdman
- 1905 Attended the first Baptist World Congress held in London, England.
- 1906-October--
1911 Pastor of Moody Church, Chicago, Illinois.
- 1911-April--
1919 Pastor Metropolitan Tabernacle (Spurgeon's), London, England
In these years were the air raids of World War I on England.
- 1919-22 During these years for three months of every year, he lectured in Los Angeles Bible Institute, Los Angeles, California and the other nine months he mainly lectured for missionary conferences in China and Japan.
- 1922-Aug. 6 Mrs. Dixon died in Kuling, China, while attending a missionary conference with her husband.
- 1922-25 Pastor of University Baptist Church, Baltimore, Maryland.
- 1923 Attended Baptist World Congress, Stockholm, Sweden.
- 1924-Jan. 25 Married Helen C. Alexander, the widow of evangelistic singer Charles M. Alexander. The marriage took place in London. A. C. Dixon traveled much in England and the continent, as well as in the United States.
- 1925-June 14 Died in Baltimore, Maryland, and was buried in Druid Ridge Cemetery near that city.
