Statement on Archival Language:

The David Allan Hubbard Library aims to describe archival materials in a way that is respectful to all communities who use, create, and are represented in our collections. However, the nature of historical materials is such that some material may represent positions, language, values, and stereotypes that are not consistent with the current values and practices at Fuller Theological Seminary.

Within our finding aids, it is possible users may encounter language that is offensive or harmful. While some language included in finding aids was written by staff, other language originates from the people and organizations that created the material. For example, folder titles are often preserved from the creators. It is standard practice not to change them and, in some cases, it provides important context about the materials. When we find problematic language created by archivists and staff we strive to update it. When we find problematic language from the original creator we will transcribe as is to preserve the context of its creation.

Biographical History

Born in 1944 in Cass City, Michigan, David William Faupel (1944-) earned his B.A. at Central Bible College and Evangel College, Springfield; M.Div. at Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, KY; and Ph.D. at the University of Birmingham, England under the direction of Walter J. Hollenweger. His thesis, "The Everlasting Gospel: the significance of eschatology in the development of Pentecostal thought" contributed to the understanding of the origins of Pentecostalism and to the later "Latter Rain" revival. The first part of that dissertation was published in Supplements to the Journal of Pentecostal Theology in 1996.

D. William Faupel was president of the Society for Pentecostal Studies in 1992 and served as its Executive Secretary from 1996 to 2000. He was the Episcopal Diocesan Ecumenical Officer for the Diocese of Lexington where he was also an associate Rector at St. John's, Versailles, KY, as well as a Librarian (1968-1975). Faupel worked as Director of B.L. Fisher Library at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Kentucky (1976-2003). In 2004, he moved to Wesley Theological Seminary where he is director of the Library. Before joining the Episcopal Church in 1970, he was a licensed minister in the Assemblies of God.

Faupel's The American Pentecostal Movement (1972) was one of the first efforts to define the historiographical and bibliographical parameters of the burgeoning movement. It was reprinted in The Higher Christian Life: A Bibliographic Overview (1985); Donald Dayton (Holiness Movement) and David Bundy (Keswick) authored other volumes in the same series. Faupel's other publications include many articles and reviews on topics and personalities within Pentecostalism and the Holiness movement. Faupel also made important contributions to research on theological librarianship.

Scope and Content

The Faupel archival collection contains correspondence, research notes, subject files, tracts, pamphlets and ephemera on the Pentecostal, Holiness and Keswick traditions, sermons, and reports. It also includes the personal biographical papers of David William Faupel. The Faupel book collection, separated to the Hubbard Library collections, contains many rare items documenting Pentecostalism in particular as well as America Evangelicalism in general.
