Statement on Archival Language:

The David Allan Hubbard Library aims to describe archival materials in a way that is respectful to all communities who use, create, and are represented in our collections. However, the nature of historical materials is such that some material may represent positions, language, values, and stereotypes that are not consistent with the current values and practices at Fuller Theological Seminary.

Within our finding aids, it is possible users may encounter language that is offensive or harmful. While some language included in finding aids was written by staff, other language originates from the people and organizations that created the material. For example, folder titles are often preserved from the creators. It is standard practice not to change them and, in some cases, it provides important context about the materials. When we find problematic language created by archivists and staff we strive to update it. When we find problematic language from the original creator we will transcribe as is to preserve the context of its creation.

Biographical History

With Carl Henry, Harold Ockenga and Harold Lindsell, Wilbur Moorehead Smith (1894-1976) was a founding faculty member of Fuller Theological Seminary and contributed his own 16,000-volume library as the foundation for the Seminary's collection.

Dr. Smith was born in Chicago into a family, which attended Moody Memorial Church. As a youth, Smith had frequent contact with some of Evangelical Christianity's notable figures of the early 20th century, including R. A. Torrey, Billy Sunday, and A. C. Dixon. Wilbur Smith was a graduate of Moody Bible Institute in 1914, of Wooster College in 1917 and received his D.D. at Evangelical Theological College, Dallas, Texas in 1932. He was ordained to the Presbyterian ministry in 1922 and pastored four churches in Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania from 1918 until 1937 when he joined the faculty of Moody Bible Institute.

From 1934 to 1972, Dr. Smith edited Peloubet's Select Notes on The International Sunday School Lessons. He also served as an editor of the New Scofield Reference Bible.

In 1947, Wilbur Smith left Moody Bible Institute in order to become one of the founding professors of Fuller Theological Seminary. He taught Bible courses until his resignation in 1963. He then taught one semester per year at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School from 1963-1971. During that time, Dr. Smith retained his home in San Marino, California; his office and library on Fuller's Pasadena campus; and his membership at Lake Avenue Congregational Church in Pasadena where he taught Koinonia, an adult Sunday school class of 200 people. He also taught Bible classes at the Church of the Open Door in Los Angeles; prepared eight-minute meditations for their nightly radio program; and accepted speaking engagements for Keswick holiness and prophecy conferences.

Scope and Content

This collection documents the ministries, family life, and literary career of Wilbur Moorehead Smith. The centerpiece of the collection is his extensive correspondence with family, colleagues and publishers, dating from 1915 through 1972. Many of the documents in the Biographical, Pastorates, Independent Board and Moody files were used by Dr. Smith in writing his autobiography, Before I Forget. Documents related to Dr. Smith's literary, speaking and teaching career consist of Dr. Smith's published bibliographies; articles and pamphlets; notes and manuscripts for his speaking engagements; and Bible study guides for both church groups and students. There are also topical files, which supported his lifelong work as a well-read and popular Bible scholar and teacher. Some records document his work on the Scofield Bible revisions.

Record formats include correspondence, course materials, research and lecture notes for courses, published and unpublished writings, diaries, scrapbooks, Fuller Theological Seminary publications, material documenting his pastoral career, Moody Bible Institute Yearbooks, and ephemera.

Series Description

Series I: Biographical (Boxes 1-4)

This series includes photographs, address books, and documents related to Wilbur Smith's personal life and vocational activities. It also includes materials gathered by Wilbur Smith for the writing of his autobiography as well as drafts and manuscripts of that work.

Series II: Correspondence (Boxes 5-22)

This series includes all correspondence, organized in three sub-series: family, alphabetical, and topical. The family correspondence includes the exchange between Wilbur Smith and his father Thomas Smith, consisting of nearly a thousand letters, and an equally large file of letters exchanged between Wilbur Smith and his wife Mary Jane. Other letters relate to Wilbur Smith's teaching and writing, and other personal correspondence. The topical file includes correspondence regarding the authority of Scripture and Fuller Seminary's so-called 'black Saturday' meeting. Other correspondence relates to a proposed theological journal and Middle East travel related correspondence. The remainder of Wilbur Smith's correspondence with individuals, publishers, and educational institutions is organized alphabetically, by correspondent's last name.

Series III: Writings and Teachings (Boxes 23-38, 64-67)

This series includes Wilbur Smith's notes and papers from his time at Moody Bible Institute as a student and professor. The series also includes manuscripts of his radio broadcasts, course syllabi prepared for Fuller Theological Seminary, and his published writings, articles, tracts, and booklets. His Scofield revisions are included along with committee notes. There is a large file of notices and brochures for his speaking engagements from 1911-1974. His writing ledgers and bibliographical filing box are also included in boxes 64-67.

Series IV: Pastorates (Boxes 39-41)

This series documents Wilbur Smith's years as a pastor of four congregations: Ocean City (1918-1921), Huntington Ridge (Lafayette Square) (1922-1927), Covington (1927-1930), and Coatesville (1930-1937).

Series V: Independent Board (Boxes 42-43)

This series includes documents, clippings and correspondence related to the establishment of the Independent Board of Missions in the Presbyterian Church of America, as well as its personal consequences in Wilbur Smith's life. It also includes documents related to the PCUSA, collected by Wilbur Smith.

Series VI: Moody Bible Institute (Box 44)

This series includes yearbooks, pamphlets, promotional materials, schedules, courses, and manuscripts. There are also documents concerning Moody Bible Institute Founders Week (1933-1950).

Series VII: Fuller Theological Seminary (Box 45)

This series is a small file of manuscripts, memos, clippings and other documents related to Fuller Theological Seminary. Letters with other Seminary faculty, staff, and students can be found in Series 2: Correspondence.

Series VIII: Collected Materials (Boxes 46-61 and Archives Oversize File Cabinet Drawer #9)

This series includes manuscripts, clippings, books, periodicals and other materials collected by Wilbur Smith throughout his lifetime. They mostly relate to his teaching, writing, speaking, and work as a bibliographer. The files are arranged topically and include a large collection of tracts and pamphlets. Topics include the Bible, archaeology, American Christianity, education, Israel, bibliographies, the Mediterranean, Billy Graham, religious movements, Great Britain, Communism, the Atomic bomb, Pentecostalism, anti-Catholic literature, Science, and Evolution.

Series IX: Addendum – Files from the Loizeaux Brothers (Boxes 62-63)

These files were mailed by M. D. Loizeaux to "The Librarian, Wilbur Smith Library" in 1984, neatly packed in Styrofoam. They are labeled in Wilbur Smith's hand and include his writings, engagements, pastorates, photos and bibliographies. The correspondence found in these files was integrated into the Correspondence series.

Series X: Addendum II – Files added October 2012 (Boxes 68-73)

This series include correspondence from all previously established categories, miscellaneous collected articles, news clippings, manuscripts and student papers, covering dates from 1937 to 1967.
