Statement on Archival Language:
The David Allan Hubbard Library aims to describe archival materials in a way that is respectful to all communities who use, create, and are represented in our collections. However, the nature of historical materials is such that some material may represent positions, language, values, and stereotypes that are not consistent with the current values and practices at Fuller Theological Seminary.

Within our finding aids, it is possible users may encounter language that is offensive or harmful. While some language included in finding aids was written by staff, other language originates from the people and organizations that created the material. For example, folder titles are often preserved from the creators. It is standard practice not to change them and, in some cases, it provides important context about the materials. When we find problematic language created by archivists and staff we strive to update it. When we find problematic language from the original creator we will transcribe as is to preserve the context of its creation.

Biographical History

Duane Pederson (1938-2022), a key figure in the Jesus Movement, was raised in Minnesota and moved to California to pursue a career as an entertainer. He started the Hollywood Free Paper (HPF) in 1969 as a Christian response to the countercultural underground newspapers. Circulation grew rapidly and the HFP became the most widely distributed Jesus paper, spreading news of the Jesus Movement from California to Europe. In an interview with a reporter, Pederson coined the term "Jesus People." Through the Hollywood Free Paper, he became a well-known voice for the Jesus People during the 1970s, providing leadership and bringing cohesion to the Movement from California to Europe and Asia. Additionally, he sponsored many concerts at the Hollywood Palladium that drew together some of the best Christian musicians of the day.

From the beginning, Pederson's ministry extended to the poor and marginalized. He worked extensively with Corrie ten Boom in ministry to prisoners, and he served as pastor of a church in Venice with an active ministry to street children. In the 1980s, Pederson became an evangelist in the Missionary Church and was later ordained as a priest in the Antiochian Orthodox Church. As of 2010, Pederson had continued his ministry to prisoners and the poor.

The Hollywood Free Paper was issued with the title "Hollywood Free Paper" from 1969-1978. From 1979-1980, it became "Visit" and was a ministry to prisoners under the ministry name of Christian Prison Volunteers. It ceased publication in 1980 and briefly resumed from 1987-1988 under the former title of "Hollywood Free Paper." All versions were edited by Duane Pederson. More information, including access to digital copies, were available at Pederson's website http://www.hollywoodfreepaper.org.
