Statement on Archival Language:

The David Allan Hubbard Library aims to describe archival materials in a way that is respectful to all communities who use, create, and are represented in our collections. However, the nature of historical materials is such that some material may represent positions, language, values, and stereotypes that are not consistent with the current values and practices at Fuller Theological Seminary.

Within our finding aids, it is possible users may encounter language that is offensive or harmful. While some language included in finding aids was written by staff, other language originates from the people and organizations that created the material. For example, folder titles are often preserved from the creators. It is standard practice not to change them and, in some cases, it provides important context about the materials. When we find problematic language created by archivists and staff we strive to update it. When we find problematic language from the original creator we will transcribe as is to preserve the context of its creation.

Biographical History

Dr. Lloyd John Ogilvie (1930-2019) had a consistent ministerial focus for the care, encouragement, and support of business, political, and community leaders. His many efforts included ministering 23 years as pastor of the historical First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood (1972-1995), leading the nationally syndicated radio and television ministry called Let God Love You, and serving as the 61st Chaplain of the United States Senate (1995-2003).

Dr. Ogilvie supported Fuller Seminary in countless ways, including (but not limited to) as a Board of Trustees member, a leader of the Lloyd John Ogilvie Institute of Preaching, and a valued colleague of former presidents David Allan Hubbard, Richard Mouw, and Mark Labberton.

Dr. Lloyd John Ogilvie was born in Kenosha, Wisconsin on September 2, 1930. He married Mary Jane Jenkins on March 25, 1951. In 1952, he graduated with a Bachelor of Arts at Lake Forest College. While attending Garret Theological Seminary, Ogilvie began his ministry as a student pastor at Gurnee Community Church in Gurnee, Illinois. In 1956, Ogilvie received his Master of Theology. He pursued post-graduate studies at New College, University of Edinburgh in Scotland from 1955-1956.

Rev. Ogilvie's first church ministry appointment was at Winnetka Presbyterian Church in Winnetka, Illinois. Working with the business leaders of Chicago, he developed a deep appreciation for how leaders impact society and their need to receive sensitive pastoral care to live out their faith in their challenging work. Dr. Ogilvie developed a small group strategy to help men and women leaders and their families find mutual support within a network. They were enabled to face problems and grasp opportunities to serve in personal relationships, at work, and in the community. Ogilvie's emphasis to support leaders and their families continued with members of the steel industry when he served as Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania beginning in 1962. Ten years later, Dr. Ogilvie moved to Hollywood, California and began his ministry at First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood (FPCH). While there, he sought to enable leaders in the entertainment community, as well as business and community leaders in the greater Los Angeles basin.

Dr. Ogilvie developed FPCH's program in four major thrusts - as a worshipping congregation, a healing community, an equipping center for the ministry of the laity, and a deployment agency for evangelism and mission. His guiding conviction was that all Christians are called into ministry and that the local church's role is to equip them to be a bold, articulate apostolate of hope in the structures of society. The equipping program was carried out through in-depth bible studies, small group meetings throughout the Los Angeles basin, and retreats and conferences. Ogilvie's leadership strategy was to work with and through the lay elders to shape the church's goals and programs. Along with a team of pastors and staff, Dr. Ogilvie sought to lead the church as a laboratory of experimentation. They explored new forms of church life and innovative methods of meeting members' needs. The goal was to enable members to be contagious communicators of their faith and courageous witnesses in social issues. Located at the center of the greater Los Angeles population, the urban Hollywood church ministered to its immediate community and its members throughout the metropolitan and suburban areas. The vital program for members was coupled with a diversified outreach to meet the social needs of the community.

Dr. Ogilvie began his nationally syndicated radio and television ministry, "Let God Love You," in 1978. The weekly television ministry ran for seventeen years (1978-1995) and the daily radio ministry spanned ten years (1978-1988). Ogilvie's messages were his part of an ongoing dialogue with his listeners and viewers. The central purpose was 'to help people turn life's struggles into stepping stones' by linking their problems to the promises and power of God. Beginning with one television station in Los Angeles, the "Let God Love You" program expanded nationwide on independent stations and cable networks.

The national Board of Directors of the Lloyd Ogilvie Ministries Inc., an independent, non-profit organization, managed the "Let God Love You" media ministry. In 1982, the Directors adopted "Ten Commitments" for the ministry's development and financial accountability. Dr. Ogilvie received no salary from the media ministry. The ministry was supported exclusively by viewer and listener contributions; all gifts were used only for costs of producing and airing the programs.

On January 24, 1995, Dr. Ogilvie was elected the 61st Chaplain of the United States Senate. He began his responsibilities on March 13, 1995. In addition to opening the Senate each day in prayer, his duties as full-time Chaplain included counseling and spiritual care for the senators and their families and staff - a combined constituency of six thousand people. His work included meetings with senators about spiritual and moral issues; assisting senatorial staff with research on theological and biblical questions; speaking to five Senate Bible Study and prayer groups; encouraging groups such as the weekly Senate Prayer Breakfast; and sharing in small discussion and reflection groups among senators. Ogilvie defined the Chaplaincy as non-political, non-partisan and non-sectarian. In Dr. Ogilvie's words, "I saw my role as Chaplain to be an intercessor for the members of the Senate family, a trusted prayer partner, and a faithful counselor to them as they sought to know and do God's will in the monumental responsibilities entrusted to them."

In February 1996, Dr. Ogilvie was recognized by Baylor University in a worldwide survey as one of the 12 most effective preachers in the English-speaking world. Included on the list are Rev. Billy Graham and Dr. John Stott.

In 2003, Dr. Ogilvie retired from the Senate chaplaincy. He served as President of Leadership Unlimited from 2003-2019. Ogilvie continued to act as a motivational speaker at business and professional conferences. He led clergy conferences on the theme "Preaching with Passion." Ogilvie also frequently preached at various churches, retreats, and meetings. His goals were to impact the nation by enabling present and emerging leaders to press on with wisdom, vision, charisma, and courage. He believed that the great need of our time is for spiritually-empowered, morally-rooted, ethically-focused men and women, who through creative introspection, are able to lead with integrity, intentionality, imagination and impelling inspiration. In 2009, Fuller Seminary established the Lloyd John Ogilvie Institute of Preaching in the Brehm Center for Worship, Theology, and the Arts.

Dr. Ogilvie was widowed by Mary Jane (Jenkins) Ogilvie in 2003. They had three children: Heather, Scott and Andrew Ogilvie. Rev. Ogilvie married Doris Kaiser Ogilvie on April 9, 2005. Dr. Ogilvie passed away on June 5, 2019 at age 88.
