Statement on Archival Language:

The David Allan Hubbard Library aims to describe archival materials in a way that is respectful to all communities who use, create, and are represented in our collections. However, the nature of historical materials is such that some material may represent positions, language, values, and stereotypes that are not consistent with the current values and practices at Fuller Theological Seminary.

Within our finding aids, it is possible users may encounter language that is offensive or harmful. While some language included in finding aids was written by staff, other language originates from the people and organizations that created the material. For example, folder titles are often preserved from the creators. It is standard practice not to change them and, in some cases, it provides important context about the materials. When we find problematic language created by archivists and staff we strive to update it. When we find problematic language from the original creator we will transcribe as is to preserve the context of its creation.

Administrative/Biographical History

David Allan Hubbard (B.A., B.D., Th.M., Ph.D., D.D., L.H.D., Lit.D.) (1928-1996) was the third president of Fuller Theological Seminary. An ordained minister of the American Baptist Church, Hubbard was a member of the third entering class of Fuller Theological Seminary, graduating in 1952. He began his career as a professor of biblical studies at Westmont College in Santa Barbara. He served Fuller Theological Seminary as professor of Old Testament and then as president from 1963-1993. During these years, Hubbard led the school to become one of the world's largest interdenominational seminaries, adding in 1965 a Graduate School of Psychology and a Graduate School of World Mission to complement the Graduate School of Theology.

An Old Testament scholar, Hubbard wrote four commentaries on the Old Testament and served as a general editor of the Word Biblical Commentary until his death. He published 36 books in all, including With Bands of Love, Psalms for All Seasons, What We Evangelicals Believe, The Holy Spirit in Today's World, The Second Coming and The Practice of Prayer. He was widely acknowledged as a leader in the evangelical community, in theological scholarship and in higher education, and was in constant demand as a speaker and lecturer. He also played key roles in bringing together previously separate segments of the evangelical community in new coalitions; in encouraging women to develop their gifts through the Office of Women's Concerns; and in developing the mandatory use of inclusive language at Fuller Theological Seminary.

As a statesman for the evangelical community, Hubbard built bridges with the Jewish and Catholic communities and led Fuller Seminary through the inerrancy/infallibility controversy of the 1960's. Again, at the forefront of a controversial issue among Christians, Hubbard voted against mandating equal time for creationism in school texts during his time as a member of the California Board of Education, 1972-1975.

Scope and Content

The office files of David Allan Hubbard, President of Fuller Seminary from 1963 to 1993, includes correspondence, minutes, reports, legal documents, publications, photographs, conference records, speaking engagements, and other materials which document his leadership of the Seminary, his community activism, and his scholarly endeavors.

The President's assistants gathered, stored and preserved his papers at the Seminary in Pasadena. The collection complements Collection 18: Papers of David Allan Hubbard, which are of a more personal nature, having been stored at his home in Santa Barbara and given by his widow in 1999.

The collection of the Presidential papers includes Fuller Seminary administrative documents. They include minutes; faculty and personnel files; campus organization files; campus property documents, Trustee files and Board reports; and the development of the "Mission Beyond the Mission" statement. The collection also includes some biographical material; personal and institutional correspondence; scripts for the Joyful Sound radio programs; and a small collection of Hubbard's writings. There are also documents concerning Hubbard's sudden death, including condolences and programs for memorial services at Fuller Seminary and at Montecito Covenant Church, Santa Barbara.

Records were added related to celebrations in honor of Hubbard's presidency in 1993, 2008 and in 2009, with the opening of the David Allan Hubbard Library.

When David Allan Hubbard began his presidency, Don Weber was Director of Public Relations and Development, assisted by Field Representative Robert Flatley and Alumni chairman Harry Kawahara. In 1965, the News Bureau was added under the direction of Roy Brewer. Bernice Spencer was hired as an assistant for PR and Development (1966-1968). In 1968, Charles Ferguson became Director of Public Affairs (1968-1972), assisted by Bernice Spencer. In 1972, Richard Laine became Director of Development (1972-1975), with Larry Burr assisting in Church Relations (1971-1985) and Bernice Spencer in Publications and Alumni Affairs. Also in 1972, Development gained a Director of Planned Giving, Kirby Taylor, and Marjorie Carlson became Manager of Publications and Information Services. In 1975, Continuing Education and Alumni Affairs were combined under the leadership of Al Jepson. (His papers are part of Series 2, subseries 7: Continuing and Extended Education).

In 1978, the Administration was divided into Schools and Offices. Frederick Mintz headed the Development Office as Director of Development with eleven assistants, associates and directors of specific areas. Alumni Affairs was moved back into the Development Office and combined with Student Recruitment under the leadership of Peggy Perry and Church Relations was headed by George Ford. In 1980, Hugh James joined the Development Office as Director of Publications and Information Services, Laura Ferguson assisting, and Alumni and Church relations were combined under George Ford.

In 1982, the head of the Development Office was Vice President of Development, Sam Delcamp. There were eight assistants, associates and directors, including Director of Capitol Gifts, Howard Taylor and Communications and Public Affairs, Hugh James, as well as a new department coordinator for Media Services, Ross Arnold. Alumni and Church relations remained combined, now lead by Marlon Sandlin. In 1983, Development gained a Director of Annual Giving Programs Eugene Stoeckly. From 1984 – 1987, Howard Taylor was Director of Development, under VP Sam Delcamp. From 1985 on, Alumni relations was a separate office, still part of the Development Office. In 1987, Howard Taylor was made VP when Sam Delcamp moved to the Fuller Foundation, and remained so throughout Hubbard’s Presidency.

In 1986, Church Relations moved from the Development Office to the Office of the Provost. The Office of the Provost was created in 1974, but limited to academic administration until 1986 when Lawrence DenBesten was made Provost. In 1987, the Office of Church Relations was created with Jack Rogers in leadership. That year, Bob Munger was made Chaplain to the Faculty and Pastor at Large. The Office of Church Relations also included the Office of Presbyterian Ministries under Gloryanna Hees; the Office of the Reformed Church in America under Ken Van Wyk; the Office of Christian Community under Gary Sattler; Dean of Chapel Robert Schaper; and Career Services under Libbie Patterson.

In 1988, Bob Munger took leadership of the Office of Church Relations. The VP for Development, Howard Taylor, gained an Associate Director of Development for Church Relations, Kent Walton. This position remained through 1993. In 1990, the Office of Christian Community was added to the Office of Church Relations and Robert Meye took leadership with Bob Munger remaining as Chaplain at Large. The American Baptist Theological Center was added under the direction of Eduardo Font.

In 1990, the Development Office expanded to include Admissions and gained a new Director of Communications and Public Affairs, Janice Ryder. The Development Office remained the same for the remainder of Hubbard’s Presidency, except for the appointment of a manager in 1992, Linda Regensberger.

When Hubbard began his presidency, Richard Curley was Business Manager, assisted by accountants Ethel F. Ennenga and Madrene Beirma. In 1972, Richard Curley gained an assistant, Lee Merritt. In 1973, Lee Merritt became Director of Business Affairs. Richard Curley became Secretary to the Board of Trustees and Assistant to the President in Financial Affairs.

In 1975, the administration was divided into three categories: Don Weber, assistant to President Hubbard; Richard Curley, Secretary to Board of Trustees and Assistant to the President in Financial Affairs; and Lee Merritt as Director of Business Affairs.

In 1978, the administration was divided into Schools and Offices. The Business Office was headed by Lee Merritt. The nine positions under Merritt's direction included the physical plant, bookstore, student housing, accounting, payroll and computer services. In 1982, Business Affairs was divided into two departments with Lee Merritt as head, along with two assistants, and a budget manager, David Adams. The Business Office was headed by Controller John Cuny who took leadership of payroll, the bookstore, housing and data processing. In 1984, Business Affairs and the Business Office were relieved of the management of many departments by the creation of a new office, Seminary Services, under the direction of Vice President of Seminary Services, David Luecke. (See the David Luecke Papers for details on these offices.) In 1985, Lee Merritt was made Chief Financial Officer. This subseries includes the records of Richard Curley and assistants, followed by Lee Merritt and assistants as well as documents related to Seminary Properties.
