

Title: Nomenus Radical Faerie Archives

Dates: 1971-1996 (bulk 1980-1996)

Collection Number: GLC 143

Creator/Collector: Radical Faeries (New Age Movement)

Extent: 14 cartons (14 cubic feet)

Repository: James C. Hormel LGBTQIA Center, San Francisco Public Library, San Francisco, California 94102

Abstract: The archives contains the correspondence, minutes, agendas, organizational records, membership directories, and publications of the Radical Faeries, a queer social organization with a focus on spirituality. A large portion of the collection concerns the acquisition and maintenance of the Wolf Creek Radical Faerie Sanctuary in Oregon. Nomenus has held the Wolf Creek site since the mid-1980s. It is a sacred space for radical queer consciousness. The collection also includes some early LGBTQIA publications such as "Fag Rag" and "Gay Sunshine."

Language of Material: Collection materials are in English.

Access

The collection is open for research.

Publication Rights

All requests for permission to publish or quote from manuscripts must be submitted in writing to the City Archivist. Permission for publication is given on behalf of the San Francisco Public Library as the owner of the physical items. Copyright for individually authored pieces is retained by the authors.

Preferred Citation

[Identification of item], Nomenus Radical Faerie Archives (GLC 143), LGBTQIA Center, San Francisco Public Library.

Acquisition Information

The bulk of the collection was donated by Joseph Cain, January 26, 2003. An additional 2 cartons of LGBTQIA publications and ephemera were donated by Jerry Berbiar, August 2006.

Biography/Administrative History

The Radical Faerie movement was founded in California in 1979 by gay activists Harry Hay and Don Kilhefner. They wanted to explore consciousness and create an alternative to what they saw as the assimilationist attitude of the mainstream U.S. gay community. They held the first Spiritual Conference for Radical Fairies in Arizona in September 1979. In the early 1980s, a group of Radical Faeries on the West Coast sought a location to hold gatherings, etc. Nomenus was formed in the mid-1980s as a non-profit religious organization, and acquired the Wolf Creek property in southern Oregon.

Scope and Content of Collection

The archives contains the correspondence, minutes, agendas, organizational records, membership directories, and publications of the Radical Faeries, a queer social organization with a focus on spirituality. A large portion of the collection concerns the acquisition and maintenance of the Wolf Creek Radical Faerie Sanctuary in Oregon. Nomenus has held the Wolf Creek site since the mid-1980s. It is a sacred space for radical queer consciousness. The collection also includes some early LGBTQIA publications such as "Fag Rag" and "Gay Sunshine."

Banner [roughly 3-1/2 feet x 13-1/2 feet]: "Radical Faeries" in fabric letters with a painted and sewn depiction of a naked male faerie with wings and high heels [fabric, sequins, paint]. A rope/cord runs through top of banner and holes are cut in various places to permit air to move through it while being carried.
