MANUSCRIPTS OF THE HASTINGS FAMILY, EARLS OF HUNTINGDON

This Report is intended only for use in conjunction with the Guide to British Historical Manuscripts in the Huntington Library [hereafter Guide] (1982) and two 3-ring binders of box-and-folder handlists for the archive, the "Hastings Lists".

Copies of the Guide are available in the Ahmanson Reading Room, at the Manuscript Card Catalogue, in the Manuscripts Reference Library (under the call number Z 6621 S2282), and elsewhere throughout the Library. The Guide entry for this collection, pp. 78-144, provides a biographical sketch of the Hastings family (variously barons Hastings, earls of Huntington and Moira, marquesses Hastings, etc.) and a detailed summary description of the contents of each of the categories into which the papers have been divided.

The "Hastings Lists" notebooks are available in the Ahmanson Reading Room at the Huntington, and their contents have been scanned to form the Huntington Digital Library entry which follows here. Those portions of the Lists that were completed by 1987 were published as vol. 22 of the Special Series of the List & Index Society.

The present Report describes the size, range of dates, and physical arrangement of each of these categories, and lists the various Finding Aids (both published and in-house) available for scholars.

Provenance: Purchased in January 1927 from Maggs. Bros. of London, which had acquired the archive from Edith Maud Hastings, Countess of Loudoun.

Number of pieces: approximately 50,000

Period covered: c. 1100-1892

Subject matter:

Listed below are the archival sub-divisions into which the papers have been arranged. For a fuller account of each, and for definitions of the types of documents included in each, see the Guide. Call numbers for the various categories are given in red.

1. Accounts and Financial (HAF): ca. 20,000 pcs., 1281-1891.

   Arranged chronologically in 128 boxes. For a folder-by-folder listing, see the "Hastings Lists" notebooks.

2. Correspondence (HA): ca. 13,900 pcs., 1477-1892

   Arranged chronologically in 204 boxes. Author cards are filed in the Alphabetical section of the Manuscript Card Catalog in the Library. For a list of people and/opr institutions represented y five or more letters, see the Guide. The correspondence to 1828 was microfilmed commercially in the 1980s by Harvester Microforms Ltd., and a listing of each letter (giving author, addressee, date, and call number) was made to accompany the film; a copy of this listing provides a chronological list of the full run to 1828, and it may be paged in the Library. Only a very small portion of this correspondence was calendared by the Historical Commission in vols. 2 and 3 of their Report on the Manuscripts of the Late Reginald Rawdon Hastings [The HMC Report] (1928-1947),

3. Deeds (HAD): ca. 4,800 pieces, 12th -19th centuries

   Arranged in 260 boxes, alphabetically by county (with Leicestershire first), and within each county alphabetically by place. Many but by no means all of the deeds were calendared in the HMC Report, and were formerly referred to by their HMC number; these numbers are now superseded by the current HAD series. For a list of all places appearing in five or more deeds, see the Guide. A card index of places and principal names is available in the Curator's office.

4. Inventories and Lists (HA Inventories): 125 pcs., 1596-ca. 1875

   Arranged chronologically in six boxes. For an item-by-item list, see the "Hastings Lists" notebooks.

5. Legal (HA Legal or HAL): ca. 600 pcs., 1329? – 19th century

   Arranged chronologically in 22 boxes, with all the papers in each case filed together under the date of the first piece. For an item-by-item list see the "Hastings Lists" notebooks. For a list of people appearing as plaintiff or defendant in five or more cases, see the Guide.

6. Manorial and Local Affairs (HAM): ca. 6,000 pcs., 13th – 19th century

   Arranged chronologically by county (Leicestershire first), and within that alphabetically by parish, in 86 boxes. For a detailed list of the contents, see the "Hastings Lists" notebooks. For a summary list of all places mentioned , with dates and number of items per place, and with a note of all court rolls, rentals, and compotus rolls, see the Guide.

7. Maps and Plans (HAM): ca. 135 pcs., ?16th – 19th century.

   Inter-filed with the Hastings Manorial and Local Affairs Papers noted above.

8. Personal and Family (HAP): ca. 760 pcs., 13th – 19th century.

   Arranged chronologically in 36 boxes. For an item-by-item list, see the "Hastings Liasts" notebooks. For a list of all wills and inquisitions post mortem, see the Guide.

9. Irish Papers (HA): ca. 2,400 pcs., 1583-1751

   Arranged chronologically in 34 boxes. Author cards are filed in the Alphabetical Section of the Manuscripts Card Catalogue at the Library. For a list of each item in chronological order, with author and call number, see the notebooks "Hastings Lists." For a list of those people or institutions represented by five or more items, see the Guide.

10. Irish Concealed Lands (HA Irish Concealed Lands) : ca. 300 pcs., ca. 1605-1620

    Filed separately in 12 boxes. For a calendar of these papers see Dr. Mary O'Dowd's typescript "Report to the Irish Manuscripts Commission on the Irish Concealed Lands papers at the Huntington Library" available from the Curator, and her calendar of the documents in Analecta Hibernica, No. 31 (1984), pp. 71-173.

11. Special Subjects (smaller sub-sets of records focused on a single, specialized subject)

- Americana (HA Americana) : 43 pcs., 1610-1823

  Arranged chronologically in 2 boxes. See "Hastings Lists" notebooks.

- Genealogy (HA Genealogy): ca. 110 pcs., 15th – 19th century

  Arranged roughly in chronological order (many items undated) in 3 boxes. See "Hastings Lists" notebooks.

- Gentlemen Pensioners (HA Gentlemen Pensioners): 46 pcs., 1660-1688.

  Arranged in chronological order in one box. For a list see "Hastings Lists" notebooks

- Indentured Retainers (HA Indentured Retainers): 69 pcs., 1461-1483.

  Arranged alphabetically by name of the retainer. Not listed in-house, but all but four have been calendared by William Huse Dunham in his Lord Hastings' Indentured Retainers, Transactions of the Connecticut Academy of arts and sciences, vol. Transactions of the Connecticut Academy of Arts and Sciences, vol. 39 (1955).

- Literature (HA Literature): ca. 100 pcs., 17th – 19th century.

  Arranged chronologically in one box. See "Hastings Lists" notebook.

- Military Affairs (HA Military Affairs) : 85 pcs., 1477-1823

  Arranged chronologically in 2 boxes. See "Hastings Lists" notebook

- Parliamentary Affairs (HA Parliament): ca. 130 pcs., 1532 - 19th century

  Arranged chronologically in 4 boxes. See "Hastings Lists" notebook.

- Religion and Ecclesiastical Affairs (HA Religion): 66 pcs., 1558-1847

  Arranged chronologically in 3 boxes. See "Hastings Lists" notebooks

- Repton Charity School & Etwall Hospital (HA Repton & Etwall): ca. 100 pcs., 1557-1841

  Arranged chronologically in 2 boxes. See "Hastings Lists" notebooks.

- School Exercises & Education (HA Schools & Education): ca. 400 pcs., 1600-1835.

  Arranged by subject in 5 boxes. See "Hastings Lists" notebooks.

- Ship Money (HA Ship Money): 9 pcs., 1635-1638

  Arranged chronologically in 1 box. See "Hastings Lists" notebooks

- Transportation (HAM Box 83): 35 pcs., ca. 1765-1781

  Arranged chronologically in 1 box. See "Hastings Lists notebooks,under Manorial & Local Affairs

- Miscellaneous (HA Misc.): c. 400 pcs., 14th-19th century.

HASTINGS CORRESPONDENCE

All of the c. 13,900 pieces of Hastings Correspondence have been catalogued; author cards (chiefly blue, omitting names of addressees) are filed in the Alphabetical section of the Manuscripts Card Catalogue.

The correspondence through 1828 has been filmed by Harvester Microforms Ltd. and is available in a multi-reel set of microfilm. The two volume Listing and Guide to this series, available from the Curator of Mansucripts, lists each letter in chronological order with author, addressee, date, and call number.

14th July, 1980.

Fr. Donal Cregan,
Chairman,
Irish Manuscripts Commission,
Dublin.

Dear Fr. Cregan,

During the month of May 1980 I had occasion to visit the Huntington Library in San Marino, California, and while I was there the curator, Miss Mary Robertson, drew my attention to the Irish material in the Hastings Manuscripts. Work on the Hastings material had not been included in my original work schedule, because it had long since been calendered by the H.M.C. in what appeared to be a satisfactory manner. Following Miss Robertson's advice I investigated the collection and found there an untapped source of enormous value for the history of seventeenth and eighteenth century Ireland.

The papers of Irish interest, as will be clear from the calendar, are those which relate to Sir John Davies, George Rawdon, Archbishop Bramhall, George Monck and their descendants. These have now been separated from the general body of the Hastings Manuscripts, and all but eleven boxes have been organised chronologically intwo discrete categories - Correspondence and Manorial. The remaining eleven boxes stand apart because they fit neither of these descriptions, and they are known to the Huntington Library as papers relating to Irish Concealed Land.

On inspection, I recognised the parchment rolls in these eleven boxes to be the file of the Commission for Defective Titles kept during the years when Davies served as Solicitor General and Attorney General in Ireland. The procedure being followed was that the inquisitions taken in the provinces were copied and certified on parchment rolls in Dublin, and these were then sent to Davies with a warrant from the lord deputy advising him to draw up letters patent on the basis of the inquisitions taken. Because the patents that resulted from this procedure no longer exist, these inquisition rolls are of especial value for economic, social and local historians of the early seventeenth century (as also for historians of Gaelic society). But valuable as it might be this source is not suitable for research-use in its present condition. Firstly the sheer volume of material is intimidating since there are in all about thirty three rolls (each containing about 50 stitched membranes), and there are numerous fragments that have broken away from either end of the original rolls where the stitching had rotted away. Secondly the inquisitions were not enrolled in any systematic fashion (or at least none that became apparent to me during what was a superficial survey), and the contents have not since been listed or catalogued.

You and your fellow commissioners will recognise the urgent need of co-operating with the Hungington Library to ensure that this wealth of material can be readily exploited by students of Irish history. What is needed most urgently is a comprehensive survey of the material by a trained archivist (or historian with the appropriate knowledge of Latin, palaeography and Irish place names), who would introduce some reference system that would make it possible for the scholar to isolate a particular inquisition. In doing this an effort should also be made to relate this source to the two printed volumes of Inquisitionum in officio rotulorum and to the Calendar of Irish Patent Rolls of James I with a view to isolating what is unique to this collection. Then as a second stage, it might be possible to proceed to a comprehensive calendar and index of the collection.

While at the Huntington, I discussed the importance of this source with the curator and the historians in residence but they held out no prospect of their being able to assign a staff member to the task of sorting and cataloguing, even in the medium to distant future. However I was given every assurance that the Huntington would provide full co-operation to a responsible Irish body, such as the Irish Manuscripts Commission or the National Library or either of the Public Record Offices, should they wish to assign a suitably trained person to the task. Dr. Martin Ridge, who co-ordinates the Huntington Fellowship programme suggested to me that this co-operation might extend to the equal sharing of the costs involved should the responsible Irish body be willing to enter on a formal agreement with the Huntington. I now urge you and your fellow commissioners to investigate this possiblility of co-operation, and I am taking the liberty of forwarding a copy of this letter to Dr. Ridge.

The Correspondence and Manorial material in the Hastings Collection has been systematically organised in chronological order, and I understand from the curator that her staff will be preparing a card index of the entire collection at no distant date. But it will be of interest to historians to learn that the collection contains much more material of Irish interest than is suggested by the printed H.M.C. Calendar. For the early seventeenth century there are, for example, some extremely detailed letters by Sir Robert Jacob, the Solicitor General, on such matters as the economy and the currency; and the correspondence of Sir George Rawdon relating to military affairs in Ulster during the 1650s is far more extensive than the calendar suggests. The same holds true of Bramhall's correspondence. For the Restoration years I estimated that only one letter in ten has been referred to in the calendar, which makes this an essential collection for the study of the Restoration Church Settlement. Finally the correspondence includes letters of the Rawdon family, treating principally of social and parliamentary matters, from the 1650s to the very end of the eighteenth century.

But of far greater interest is the Irish manorial material. This includes a regular series of rentals for the Fermanagh and Tyrone estates that Davies had acquired under the Ulster plantation (and which later became the property of his daughter Lucy, Lady Hastings) from the early 1630s to 1641, and again from the 1650s until the properties were disposed through sale at the end of the seventeenth century. This is of unique value because, to my knowledge, no such regular series of rentals exists for any other Ulster estate in this period.

Next in importance comes the Rawdon manorial material. This shows how the Rawdon estates (in counties Down and Meath and in Dublin city) were built up, and there exists a regular series of rentals from the 1650s to the end of the eighteenth century. For the eighteenth century there are also some surveys of the estates, and sketches of buildings such as Moira House. But generally this must be recognised as of especial importance because the rentals stretch over such a long period of time. Besides these, there are some rentals relating to the Armagh diocese, and some material for the property acquired by George Monck in Co. Wexford at the Restoration.

But these latter materials are well organised and catalogued and I mention them here merely to alert historians in Ireland to their existence. My primary concern remains the Commission for Defective Titles material and I hope that you will be able to persuade your fellow commissioners to open formal contact with The Huntington Library with a view to having this material sorted and catalogued.

Yours sincerely,

Nicholas Canny
Professor of History.
