Title: "Pussies on Wheels" LACA event ephemera

Artist(s)/Author(s): Antoni Hervas

City Published / Produced: Los Angeles

Copies: 1

Date Acquired: Wednesday, July 26, 2017

Date Aired / Exhibited: Monday, June 5, 2017

Description: Antoni Hervas draws from his personal experience turning everyday life into extraordinary narratives through an expanded method of illustrating. Hervas places his body in the center of an action: as a collection of memories, techniques and modus operandi. Drawing helps him build a map from a nonlinear temporal structure, made up of fragments which cut, paste, color and overlap. He takes advantage of the transformative power of drawing and installation.

During his stay at 18th Street Arts Center, Antoni has conducted research, in the three areas: Chuck Arnett, The Roller Derby Girls and Voguing.

With these three areas of focus, Hervas challenges stereotypes associated with masculinity and femininity as well as prescribed modes of beauty and the body. He explores hyper-sexualization, the customization of clothing and self-representation, the relationship with DIY, freedom, physical strength, femininity and alternative masculinities and inclusiveness; beyond the binary definitions of gender.□□

Herv□□s talk at LACA will have a performative nature. He will share his temporary experiences in Los Angeles - particularly with the difficulties of translation, not only linguistic, but also those related to cultural parameters which have added a new filter of fantasy to his fascination with popular culture.
