BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE:

William "Will" Noffke was a leading voice in alternative faith, health, music, human potential, and culture in the Bay Area during the 1970s and 1980s. Noffke hosted discussions about the cultural movements on his broadcasts on public radio and also through his Shared Visions store on San Pablo Avenue in Berkeley.

Born in Rochester, New York in 1929, he became a theatrical set designer in New York City, working off and on Broadway productions. He moved to San Francisco in 1963 to continue this work.

Noffke was raised in a fundamentalist Christian family. While working in New York, he found a copy of the Bhagavad-Gita at the director's office. The book inspired him to join the Vedanta Society, leading to his exploration of various spiritual paths. Later, he described his spiritual path in his own words as "Vedanta / Sufi / Taoist!—unity of existence!"

Noffke became the main contact and primary host for the radio show Meeting of the Ways in 1972. The live show ran on Saturday evenings from 8-10 on KQED-FM San Francisco through 1974. The show was sponsored by the association of a varying number (10 to 20) of Bay Area groups dedicated to the spiritual unity underlying man's diversity. Meeting of the Ways also staged a number of celebratory events in Golden Gate Park and the Masonic Auditorium in San Francisco during this time period.

In 1974, Noffke joined Michael and Justine Toms when they formed the public radio program New Dimensions, a combination of Meeting of the Ways and Frontiers of Consciousness. He and Michael (1940-2013) began as the primary co-hosts of the radio program that is still popular today. A New Dimensions newsletter describes their programs as "an exploration of the human condition through the personal and dynamic medium of radio. Radio provides a unique vehicle for conscious communication."

Michael described Noffke as "Bay Area networker extraordinaire… Will's ability to bring out the guest's deepest, more spiritual feelings resulted in warm and fulfilling perspectives not usually expressed."

In 1978, Noffke became the main host and producer of the New Horizons radio show on KPFA-FM 94 Berkeley Friday at noon. Called Transformative Radio, he described the show as "Conversations with those on the leading edge of personal and planetary transformation." The opening theme music featured "New Horizons" by the Moody Blues from their 1972 album Seventh Sojourn.

Noffke opened a store on 2510-12 San Pablo Avenue in Berkeley called Shared Visions in 1981. The space went through various changes over its existence, but consistently combined a bookstore, offices, and performance space. Among the items sold were cassettes of his radio show and other events.

As a radio host he interviewed hundreds of luminaries from many different areas who expressed new cultural perspectives and inspired innovation. They ranged from spiritual leaders (Ram Das) to psychedelic gurus (Terrence McKenna) to New Age Musicians (Dorothy Fadiman) to human potential and health practitioners (Andy Weil) to politicians (John Vasconcellos). He moderated extensive programs on psychedelics, health, and politics.

Among his other activities, he was a member of the Board of Directors of the Dancer's Workshop of San Francisco, and belonged to the Melvana Foundation.

Noffke retired in 1990 when the New Horizons show was cancelled and his store was closed. He moved into a retirement community in 1994. He died in 1997 due to complications with AIDS at the age of 68.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE:

Noffke's papers include administrative materials that reflect his role as producer and radio host, such as scripts of interviews and publicity material. Also included are resource materials from different organizations and individuals he assembled in the course of researching and preparing interviews. Noffke's correspondence reveals his work as an idealistic networker and loving friend.

Among his papers are handwritten manuscripts, correspondence, photographs, newsletters, periodicals, a large collection of ephemera, including posters, pamphlets, brochures, flyers, and publicity materials. When the Graduate Theological Union Library first received his donation, some of his materials, primarily ephemera and some correspondence, were removed from the Noffke Papers and filed into the New Religious Movements Organizations: Vertical Files Collection (GTU 99-8-1). Noffke materials in the Vertical Files Collection are identified by his name on any file folder containing items and on the Container List in the finding aid.

In May 2024, a longtime friend donated a photo album of Will Noffke with photos ranging from childhood to late life, greatly adding to the visual documentation of his life.

The Noffke collection includes almost 1900 audiotapes (623 commercial reel to reel tapes; 1230 cassettes) that span two decades of radio interviews embracing a rich diversity of subject matter and personalities.

Series VII: Audiotape Collection, ca. 1972-1990
22 boxes of cassettes; 37 linear feet of Open Reel tapes

The audio collection is comprised of 1853 audio tapes: 623 open reel tapes that are New Horizon shows and 1230 cassettes that are mainly of his various radio shows and events. Other cassettes were for research, some were for inspiration, and some were part of the Shared Visions lending library. They are organized in four lists:

- New Horizons / Shared Visions / Co-Creative produced cassettes, mostly masters
- Cassettes from different sources: Meeting of the Ways, New Dimensions, other Noffke shows, and a variety of publishers
- Boxed, multiple cassettes that are mainly from New Dimensions (173 titles, 391 cassettes)
- Open reel tapes, New Horizon shows (623 tapes)

The audio tape inventory has been an ongoing endeavor. Some labels are unclear, making the identification of guests and titles difficult. Dates of the initial airing of the radio show is not always indicated. Below are working lists of the audio tapes.
